

Activity Description

Before you know it, your high school days will be over. The next time that you see many of your best friends will be at your class reunions. You'll spend time getting reacquainted and reminiscing about the great times you had in high school.

To practice your Deutsch, you will work with a partner to invent your own Klassentreffen that will take place ten years from now. Develop a dialogue in which you first greet each other, and then discuss what has happened in the last few years. Your discussion must include where you live, what job you have, where you do that job, how much money you make and something cool that you spent your money on.

Before saying good-bye comment on the other person's job (using at least two adjectives) and then make a comment about another person at the Klassentreff (using at least two new adjectives).

	Ausgezeichnet	Es geht	Braucht hilfe
Post-high school update	Student discuss post high school lives completely with details about home location, job, job location, $, spending habits. 5	Students discuss post-high school lives, giving a few details. 4 3	Students briefly discuss post-high school lives, but give only one or two details. 2 1 0
Adjectives	Student uses adjectives to describe other person's job as well as another classmate. 4	Student uses some adjectives correctly. 3 2	Student uses few adjectives correctly. 1 0
Presentation and Communication	Presentation is clear and well-prepared; German is correct with minor errors 10 9	Presentation is somewhat clear and prepared; German has several errors 8 7 6	Presentation is not clear or well-prepared; many times the German is unclear. 5 4 3 2 1
Memorization	Note card is minimally used. No sentences on note card. Both easily improvise to fill any gaps. 5	Note card is often used. Some sentences on note card. Some improvisation with help. Some gaps between speakers. 4 3	All lines are simply read from notes; group is not able to improvise. Many gaps between speakers 2 1 0

